

Snowflakes

Our school has pledged to raise money for the Sheffield Children's Hospital Charity this year! You will remember seeing the fantastic elephants around Sheffield for their last fundraising project. This time it's all about snowflakes! Bankwood Community Primary School will have its own snowflake with a personalised plaque on the wall of the hospital. All of the money raised for the charity will go towards improving the quality of facilities in the hospital for children that have to stay overnight or longer. There will be a light-switch-on taking place on Monday 4th December (details to follow). As a school, we have a target to raise for Sheffield's Children Hospital Charity so keep your eyes peeled for some exciting events taking place around school over the next few months! Thank you for your support.
