- Understand that we should feel loved, cared for and safe in our homes.

- Know what to do if our needs are not being met

Key vocabulary

Responsibility, kindness

PSHE links

R1. about the roles different people (e.g. acquaintances, friends and relatives) play in our lives

R2. to identify the people who love and care for them and what they do to help them feel cared for

L1. about what rules are, why they are needed, and why different rules are needed for different situations

R20. what to do if they feel unsafe or worried for themselves or others; who to ask for help and vocabulary to use when asking for help; importance of keeping trying until they are heard

R5. that it is important to tell someone (such as their teacher) if something about their family makes them unhappy or worried

R13. to recognise that some things are private and the importance of respecting privacy; that parts of their body covered by underwear are private

R17. about knowing there are situations when they should ask for permission and also when their permission should be sought

R18. about the importance of not keeping adults' secrets (only happy surprises that others will find out about eventually)

R21. about what is kind and unkind behaviour, and how this can affect others

L2. how people and other living things have different needs;

[doesn't exist - all families have problems, but every member of the family should try and make it a nice place to be]

Shared writing

- We can never be perfect, but we can try to treat our families kindly
- On whiteboard, teacher makes a list of ways in which we should try to act

Class discussion:

Review lists made during shared writing activity
 [Be polite (please, thank you), be kind (ask for examples), be considerate (be quiet when appropriate, do something nice for a person you love), ask for permission, ask our family how they are, do jobs that help make the house nice]

These are our responsibilities

Class discussion:

- What should we expect from our families?
 [Care (children need to be looked after), love (nice words, smiles, hugs), rules (children need to know what is right and wrong), #privacy (we all need time to be alone), someone to listen to our problems]

These are our families' responsibilities

- How should we feel at home
 [safe from harm, special, listened to]
- What should you do if you are not getting these things?
 [Talk to an adult that you trust (teacher, relative, call childline 0800 1111)]

- Why did Alfred trust Lord Henry?
- Why did Henry tell him to keep it secret?
- Why did Alfred not tell his mum about Lord Henry's tickling? [everyone liked him, he felt special, he was worried that Henry would be angry, he was worried that no-one would believe him, he wasn't sure if it was wrong or not (if it feels wrong - it is wrong), he was ashamed, he thought it was his own fault, his mum might lose her job, Henry was very powerful]
- Why was it so important to tell someone?
- Do you know who to tell?

If someone is forcing you to keep a secret, it is not your fault. Worries can often be fixed if you share them with someone you trust. Who are your trusted adults?
 [parents, family, teachers]

What do I do if something is wrong?
 [Tell a trusted adult), Call Childline 0800 11 11]

What is the difference between a secret and a surprise?
 [A secret is a serious thing, that you keep hidden but you might not understand why. A surprise is a nice thing, that you don't tell someone for a short period of time, until a nice event when it is revealed]

Key questions

- Do you understand why it should be a secret?
- Does it make you feel worried?

Class activity

Show children different scenarios. They decide if they are secrets or surprises.
 - Your brother's birthday party - they don't know it is

Activity: Draw and label

Print resources from NSPCC

They tell you "No-one would believe you anyway. You just tripped over" - You find out what present your sister is getting for Christmas, you are asked not to tell anyone - Someone takes a photo of you and tells you to keep it a secret - Your brother is watching something that makes you feel funny on the screen. He says that you "better not tell anyone"
	Further Information for teachers Information about FGM prevention <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Most children will not need specific information about FGM beyond the fact that consent is required for someone to touch our bodies - Teachers will need training on FGM prevention and be able to accurately identify the groups that are at risk - It is important that teachers do not make assumptions about those at risk using stereotypes, and they must ensure that they are up to date with official government advice, and use this information to assess safeguarding risks - Click here for further links to official guidance and information More lesson ideas from NSPCC https://learning.nspcc.org.uk/media/1387/underwear-rule-resources-lesson-plan.pdf More ideas https://www.instagram.com/p/BofSJKqhn-N/ families including those that may be different to their own

L6. to recognise the ways they are the same as, and different to, other people

step-dad, aunts, uncles, grandparents, brothers, sisters]

Class discussion:

There is no such thing as normal - different families are made up of different people. Some things are more common than others, but that doesn't mean they are better.

- 1) What religion might a family be?
[In Sheffield, in order from most common to least: Christian, No Religion, Muslim, Hindu, Buddhist, Sikh, Jewish, other]
- 2) Will all parents be married?
[Some are (67%), but often they are not (33%)]
- 3) Will parents always live together?
[No, many children are brought up by just one parent (15%*)]
- 4) Are parents always a mum and a dad?
[No, many children have 2 mums or 2 dads (1.2%*) - stress that this is ok, and the important thing is that parents are kind to their children.]
- 4a) Do children always live with their parents?
[No, many children live with step-parents, grandparents, foster parents, adoptive parents or another adult that looks after them]
- 5) Do people always have brothers and sisters?
[No, many people are only children - For example, in many cultures, people refer to their cousins as brothers and sisters]
- 6) Do all people have the same culture?
[No - some people's culture is based on their religion, sometimes it is based on the country that they live in or came from (14% UK population were born outside the UK), sometimes it is based on the personal tastes of the adults in the family]
- 7) Do all families eat the same food?
[No - different cultures eat different food; in modern times though, people tend to pick the things they like to eat from many different cultures (curry from South Asia, pizza and pasta from Italy, fast food from U.S.A., Chinese from China).

	8) What kind of food do you eat at home? * Some parents and relatives are non-binary - meaning that they don't identify as either a man or a woman. Sometimes these people prefer to be called 'they', instead of 'he' or 'she'. There is no expectation that you will teach this as part of your lesson (it is covered in KS2) but may want to bring it up in order to include children or their families, if they wish you to do so. We recommend that you talk to the families in question and your leadership team to ensure this is done in an appropriate and safe manner.

C1) How do we make a happy school?

Objectives

- Understand why we have rules and how they help us learn and be happy
- Understand how to behave appropriately and how to contribute to school life
- Appreciate how important school is to them
- Identify their special people in school

Key vocabulary

Presentation: How do we make a happy school?

Partner Talk

- What do you love about your school?
- Do you feel lucky to be here?
- Make a list of the things a school needs to be a nice place
[rules, kindness, fun, play, hard work, listening, thoughtfulness]

Class Discussion

- Take note of the things brought up in the discussion
- Which is the most important?

Key Question

- Why do we need rules?
[sometimes people are selfish and they need to remember that their actions affect other people]

Class Discussion

- Look at school/class rules:
- Choose some of the rules and discuss why they are so

Activity: Order list

Order the list of 'things to make a happy school' from highest to lowest

Additional Picture Books, resources and information

Book: The Paper Bag Princess
by Robert Munsch
Fairytale with gender roles reversed
 - Discuss how this is different from a traditional fairytale
 - Do you think that princesses should wait to be rescued, or go on adventures themselves?

Book: Dogs Don't Do Ballet
by Anna Kemp
Book about a dog who defies gender expectations to achieve their dreams
 N.B. questions taken from [Outside the Box]
 • Why does Biff feel happy/sad at this point of the story?
 • Is Biff a ballerina yet? Why not? What is stopping him?
 • Why do the characters in the story stop Biff doing what would make him happy?
 After reading the whole book, facilitate a discussion, using the questions below, about how our expectations of others can hurt people's feelings.
 Key Questions
 • Did the characters in the story expect Biff to be fantastic at ballet? Were their expectations right or wrong?
 • How did Biff feel when he wasn't allowed to do what he loved?
 • What might have happened if Biff believed what everyone thought that dogs don't do ballet?
 • Have you ever been told you can't do something, or that you must do something, because of who you are? How did this make you feel?
 • Are boys/girls ever told they can't do things because they are boys/girls? Can anyone think of any examples?

Outside the Box
 Excellent resource about reducing gender stereotypes and sexism and promoting equality for the whole school (lesson ideas from page 61 onwards)

* N.B. clearly, there are other parts of the reproductive system as well (vulva, clitoris, uterus, cervix, labia, womb, testicles etc.), which may be covered in UKS2. Children will have many different words for their genitals, but for reasons of safeguarding and consistency, it is useful for children to know the anatomical name of their most sensitive area. Some schools have chosen to choose the word 'vulva' as well/instead of 'vagina'. This is fine, so long as this vocabulary is consistent throughout the whole school. We have chosen to use vagina, as it is more commonly used. If children suggest or ask questions about words, please support this with positive feedback. School staff should feel free to answer any questions honestly. In particular, it is important that we ensure children are using anatomical words correctly. There is no need to go into details about what they are for, but acknowledging and respecting children's curiosity about an important part of their body is crucial.

 N.B. Teachers will be aware that some people are trans, which is an umbrella term to describe people whose gender is not the same as, or does not sit comfortably with, the sex they were assigned at birth. Teachers are welcome to discuss this topic, if they feel properly informed to do so and they feel it is appropriate. We have decided not to mention it in KS1, not because we think it is inappropriate, but because we would rather wait until the children are old enough to fully understand the complexities of the issue. This will ensure that children are never confused about the subject. Trans issues are discussed in LKS2 "Fr2\) Are all friends the same?" and UKS2 "Fr6\) How do I accept my friends for who they are?"

At no point, no matter how young the child, should LGBTQ+ issues be seen as taboo. They are a healthy and normal part of our accepting, tolerant and diverse society.

Teachers looking for more guidance should follow this link to a word document, which contains a large range of information regarding gender and sexuality, including advice on whole school approaches to reducing homophobic and transphobic bullying.

Online Safety

N.B. The following lessons are taken from the Sheffield Primary Online Safety Curriculum, available for free to all Sheffield schools. The units presented here are what we consider to be the most crucial lessons and the ones that best fit with the RSHE curriculum, however we recommend that the full online safety curriculum is also taught, as part of PSHE and computing lessons as appropriate.
